RESCUE 5 MEN TRAPPED FOR WEEK IN MINE

DEMOCRATS IN WRANGLE OVER NEXT U. S. HEAD

Smith and McAdoo Factions Still Aggressive in Seeking Nomination
FAVOR MAJORITY RULE
Party in Ohio Believes Pomerene Has Good Chance as Compromise Candidate

Washington—Presidential politics is not altogether the pre-occupation of the Republicans nowadays for the Democratic leaders throughout the country are as active as if the next national convention were a few months away.

Although outwardly the talk of candidates is an essential part of the discussions; the real maneuvers are being made with reference to the abrogation of the two-thirds rule. All elements in the party seem to be veering toward the majority rule idea. Whether this sentiment will continue until convention time is, of course, impossible to say as candidates may influence opinion.

When it is apparent that some one candidate is in the lead and is likely to be nominated, the desire to block nomination may become strong enough to cause the withdrawal of support for the majority ballot rule.

MACDOO AGAINST SMITH

Generally speaking, however, the friends of the various candidates are saying now they are willing to take a chance on the majority rule. It may be surprising to those who do not follow politics closely but the friends of William G. McAdoo and Governor Al Smith are almost as aggressive today as if there had been no convention in 1924 at Madison Square Garden. There is this difference, however, the McAdoo forces are now expressing concern over the apparent growth in strength of Governor Smith. McAdoo men say they will stay in the race if only to block Smith and so give the character just as did in 1924—almost as irreconcilable as the factions were in the league of nations controversy.

STRONG SMITH SENTIMENT

The two things which were heard everywhere in 1924 were that Al Smith could not be nominated because of his "wet" views and because his nomination would mean the reopening of religious warfare. Today the swing in sentiment in eastern states is counted as an asset on the wet question and particularly because a referendum has been suggested as a means of demonically disposing of the issue. As for the religious question, some Democratic leaders who were not Smith men in 1924 are beginning to say that until the Democratic party demonstrates that it has no religious prejudices it cannot hope for unity and that even if Al Smith were not elected, the party could reap the benefit of its breadth of viewpoint and be in a position in future elections to retain the votes of the tolerant citizenship of the country. Talk like this is so widespread that it has provoked some alarm among the followers of other candidates who now are discussing ways and means of blocking Smith. In 1924 they were talking of how to block McAdoo.

All this furnishes another reason for gossip about a compromise candidate. In Ohio, the Democrats think that Alton Pomerene is their man. Having won the senatorial nomination in a pivotal state, he has of course yet to win the election. If he does, it is assured that he will figure prominently in the talk of a compromise candidate.

CONTINUE PROBE OF STATE-BAR EXAM

Madison—(AP)—The investigation into reports of alleged cheating in the recent state bar examination was resumed here Thursday with indications according to district Attorney Philip LaFollette that it will continue for at least a week. Mr. LaFollette is a special investigator appointed by the supreme court to determine if possible whether a reported elaborate system of cheating by using signals was practiced by some of the 177 prospective lawyers who took the examination. The appeal is in two volumes and 16 copies of each were necessary for the appellate court record. The appeal consists of trial record including the famous, but mostly unprintable, love letters, one of which was 2,000 words long, that figured in the testimony.

The appeal will not be argued until after Oct. 4, and the principals will not have to be present.

SCION FAILS TO DECLARE GOODS

Claim Young Rockefeller Tried to Smuggle Articles to U. S.

New York—(AP)—Goods belonging to J. Sterling Rockefeller, son of William G. Rockefeller and great nephew of John D. Rockefeller were held by the collector of the port Thursday on the ground that the young man had attempted to smuggle them into the country when he arrived on the liner France Wednesday night.

It was learned Thursday that young Rockefeller, who was in Yale university last year, was apprehended on the pier Wednesday night by customs officials who said that he was in the act of bringing into the country undeclared razors, a pipe, a pair of binoculars and two automobile ornaments. He was taken before Philip Eiting, collector of the port, who ordered the goods seized. After determining the foreign value and duty of the goods the collector placed a personal penalty of 100 per cent in addition to the domestic value. Young Rockefeller will be forced to pay $476 to reclaim the goods.

MINERS ALIVE AFTER VIGIL IN SALEM CAVE-IN

One Man Saved Is in Serious Condition as Result of Pneumonia

Salem, Ky.—(AP)—All five miners who were imprisoned by a cave-in at the Hudson mine last Thursday were brought to the surface alive Thursday morning.

Randolph Cobb was the first man to reach the top of the shaft. He called to the crowd which waited anxiously. "Hello there boys I'm not sick."

Roy James, for whom little hope had been held as he had been separated from the other miners when the cave-in occurred was the next to appear.

George Castiller was third. He was delirious and is in a critical condition as the result of pneumonia.

U. B. Wilson, was the fourth man and Harry Watson the last man to appear. Watson was in a hilarious mood. He called "where's my horse. I want to ride him home."

The miners were greeted with cheers when they appeared. The miners said that during the long vigil underground they had never given up hope of rescue nor had any one of them become discouraged.

LOSE SENSE OF TIME

They had four matches between them. These were carefully carried. By burrowing the miners' lamps which they had one at a time, they were enabled to have light for a long time. Finally darkness fell. Then they lost all sense of time, they said, and waited through the long black hours. A daughter of Cobb was at the mine entrance when her father appeared. At the sight of his face she became hysterical and fainted.

James, the miners said, was the hero of the escape. Instead of attempting to dig his way out, he decided to go back to warn the other four men of the calamity.

The men were apparently suffering only weakness from lack of food, with the exception of Castiller.

All night the mucking crews had toiled at the shaft, opening a passage gradually through the tunnel as the mud and rotted timbers were cleared away. The dramatic rescue came as a surprising sequel to the days and nights of effort, despite the hope that the men might yet survive.

Men engaged in removing debris in the tunnel arrived without shouting distance of the trapped miners early Thursday. The first message from the imprisoned men was yelled by one of them, who called out, "we are everyone right back here."

Fifteen picked men assigned to enter the shaft first in the event the men were found, immediately went down in the tunnel and assisted the men. One by one they emerged to the light, while waiting crowds cheered lustily.

EXPERTS FAVOR BOBBED TRESSES

Short Hair Cut in Variety of Styles Reigns in Fashion Review

Chicago—(AP)—Bobbed hair's favor with American women seemed to totter Thursday, but instead tightened its hold by seeming to be something else.

Exhibiting 75 models at the fifth annual million dollar fur show here Madame Louise, internationally known beauty expert, Thursday showed hair cut long on one side of the head and bobbed the rest of the way around. "Hair for formal wear next season," she said, "will be cut to suit the type and draped about the head to simulate long hair."

"Bobbed hair will never go. It's too comfortable, but it is to be camouflaged to look long."

"Longer hair will bring back the longer bouffant frocks. Instead of draping, this style will wear the hair on one side of the head in two or three curls down to the line of the chin."

"Another—The madonna type—will have hair parted in the middle and worn smooth, with a small knob at the nape of the neck across which will be worn a Rhinestone or enamel buckle."

"Ears will be out this year and tiny ed from flesh color to cerise."

"Fingernails will be painted to match the gown."

SEEK WAY TO SPOIL TASTE OF ALCOHOL

Government Dry Officials Want Harmless but Disagreeable Ingredient

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—After canvassing the first results of the government's "gas" attack on bootleggers, prohibition officials have decided that something more than gasoline must be added to alcohol to make it completely useless for beverage purposes.

At a conference Thursday between acting Secretary Winston of the treasury, Frank Dow, acting chief of the prohibition forces and James M. Doran, the chief prohibition chemist, Doran reported that the bootleggers, chemists are getting wise to methods of eliminating the gasoline and that some new means of changing the taste of alcohol must be devised. It also was shown that methods had been devised to eliminate other ingredients placed in alcohol by the action of the government. These include wood alcohol, pyridine bases, benzene and kerosene. What the prohibition officials will try next was not disclosed but it was said at the treasury that the new ingredient although designed to give alcohol a repugnant taste, would be "harmless."

Madison—(AP)—The selection of seven jurors who are to hear the grand jury investigation into the affairs of the county and the towns of Forest county, was completed Thursday morning and the first session will open here Friday morning, with Gerald P. Clifford, a Green Bay attorney in charge.

Quinlan of Marinette on a petition of the board of supervisors of Forest county and although no person or group have been charged with any violation of the law it is understood that the jury will delve into the general conditions of the county. Attorney Clifford has been here for the past few days taking secret evidence and Judge Quinlan will arrive Friday for the first session which will be largely devoted to the examination of the jurors.

Dempsey Prefers Fighting To Arranging For Bout

New York—(AP)—Jack Dempsey would rather fight than make an arrangement for a ring show, and that he has assumed his own management, he told a representative of the Associated Press while he waited for three hours trying to get himself licensed for a bout with Gene Tunney in New York.

The champion said that he had honestly tried for nearly five years to get a fight with Harry Wills and all he had obtained was condemnation, summonses and headaches. Jack said his only dodging had been of process servers in recent months, and that he preferred sparring with an antagonist in the ring if he could only succeed in arranging a fight.

"Isn't your three year layoff going to be a big handicap in meeting Tunney?" Dempsey was asked.

"It hasn't helped me any, that's a cinch, but the fact that I always keep myself in good condition is going to help. I'm not far from my best fighting weight now, and won't have any trouble getting down to about 218 or 190 for Tunney."

The champion scaled 202 pounds in street clothes at the boxing commissioners office on Tuesday.

"How do you size up Tunney?" he was asked. "Don't make any mistake about him—he's the best of the lot," he answered. "Look at his record, he knocked out Tom Gibbons who stayed the limit with me and Bartley Madigan, who lasted 15 rounds with Wills. He also knocked out Carpenter."

The commission voted two to one in favor of the recommendation. James A. Farley, the chairman, casting the opposing vote. Farley has held out for a match between Dempsey and Harry Wills, the Negro challenger.

The action of the commission paves the way for the license committee to reconsider its action in denying a license to Dempsey last Tuesday. There can be no disposition of Dempsey's application, however, until next Monday as Colonel John J. Phelan, chairman of the license committee, declined to meet with the commission Thursday.

MAY DISCARD PRIMARY LAW IN ILLINOIS

Three Circuit Judges Rule Act Is Invalid and Unconstitutional

Chicago—(AP)—The bygone days of party conventions and party bosses may come back to Illinois. The 16-year old direct primary law, under which nominees for state and local offices have been selected since its enactment in 1910, will be thrown to the discard if the Illinois supreme court sustains the decision of three judges in circuit court at Dixon, Ill., Wednesday.

Holding that equal representation in county conventions under the existing statute is impossible Judge William J. Emerson, sitting with two associates, declared the primary law invalid and unconstitutional and enjoined county officers of Lee county from paying the salaries of election judges and clerks and other expenses incurred in the April 12 primary.

The ruling will affect the results of the spring primary only in Lee county. The chaos in party organization that would follow the final scrapping of the primary system was deflected by the announcement of an appeal to the state supreme court by States Attorney Mark C. Keller of Lee county. Almost certain war over the makeup of party committees, with its probable effect on the November balloting might be precipitated by an early decision adverse to the law, but the appeal is not likely to be heard by the court until October.

REPORT MANY EXECUTIONS IN MEXICAN ROW

Bishop Estimates Fifty Persons Killed in Community During Controversy

Mexico City—(AP)—A report of excesses and of executions growing out of the religious situation has been made to the archbishop here by Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz E. Flores of the state of Michoacan. Ministry of the Interior announced that it has no knowledge of such happenings as the archbishop has reported.

The information brought to Mexico City by Archbishop Ruiz is that two Catholic priests and between 27 and 37 Catholics in the town of Zocoahuacan, state of Michoacan have been executed. The bishop estimated that altogether 50 persons were killed in the battle.

The prelate also said that at Acambaro, state of Guanajuato disorders arising from the religious controversy led to other executions. When the people of Acambaro refused to turn over their churches to the municipal authorities two government engineers were killed by the crowd and their bodies hacked almost to pieces, notwithstanding the fact the priest appealed to the crowd to assist. Bishop al troops arrived and executed three and possibly more of the leaders, the prelate added.

Chicago—(AP)—An offer of $5,000 to Gertrude Ederle for an attempt to swim the channel between Catalina Island and the California mainland was made through the Chicago Tribune Thursday by William Wrigley, Jr., Chicago chewing gum magnate.

The channel is about 23 miles wide at its most approachable points, a greater distance than covered by Miss Ederle in swimming the English channel and is considerably less rough a body of water.

The sum, Wrigley informed the newspaper from Los Angeles would be to underwrite all expenses for the coast trip and training with the balance "a merited reward to America's greatest swimmer, whether she succeeds in the Catalina swim or not."

Now, five months after their marriage Mrs. Virginia M. Tashjian has sued for divorce, charging cruelty. ### STAGE FINAL FIGHT TO SAVE BANDIT'S LIFE

Whittemore Lawyer Will Attempt to Stay Thursday Night Execution

Beverly Farms, Mass.—(AP)—United States Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, Thursday denied the application for a writ of error made by Attorney G. L. Pendleton in behalf of Richard Reese Whittemore, under sentence of death in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md.—(AP)—Richard Reese Whittemore's life, scheduled to end on the gallows a few minutes after midnight Thursday night was suspended Thursday on the slender thread of hope that his Negro attorney could persuade a United States supreme court justice to wave aside the hangman.

Having failed in his attempt to obtain from Judge Robert F. Stanton in city court either a writ of habeas corpus or writ of error to stay execution pending appeal to supreme court, G. L. Pendleton, Negro lawyer, who espoused the bandit leader's cause at the eleventh hour, left Baltimore Wednesday night. He let it be known that his destination was Massachusetts and that he intended to place the case before Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes at Beverly Farms, Justice Louis D. Brandeis at Chatham or Justice Edward T. Sanford at Nantucket.

Whittemore fatally wounded Robert H. Holtman, Maryland penitentiary guard, in escaping from the institution on Feb. 20, 1925. Since his conviction of first degree murder on May 21, last, on sentence to death, his case has been marked by record of adverse court decision by the supreme bench of Baltimore and the Maryland court of appeals denied him a new trial.

Mrs. Margaret Whittemore, his wife has refused however to relinquish hope.

"Reese will not hang," she said. "I have not made arrangements for a funeral or for mourning. I have implicit faith in our latest move."

REPORT REVOLT IN SOVIET RUSSIA

Bucharest, Rumania—(AP)—Sensational reports concerning the situation in Soviet Russia are again printed by the Bucharest newspapers.

Leon Trotsky deposed war minister is said to have "asked for German military aid," and the Soviet opposition press is pictured as calling on the people to rebel against "the atrocities of Rykoff and Stalin."

Reports of trouble in Soviet Russia have been given official denial in Moscow, the Tass agency, official news disseminator of the Soviet government in a dispatch to London on Monday said: "Reports of M. Stalin's assassination, military revolts, mobilizations and disturbances on the Black sea are absolute nonsense. Everybody laughs at them."

ENGLISH PACT HARD BLOW TO BEER RUNNERS

General Claims It Is First Important Non Diplomatic Agreement Ever Reached

HURTS HOME PRODUCT

Denies Government Poisons Industrial Alcohol to Check Liquor Drinking

New York—(AP)—Rum row faces immediate extinction and bootleggers have been dealt a severe blow in the sale of their home products, in the opinion of General Lincoln C. Andrews, who has just returned from negotiating an agreement with Great Britain to curb rum running.

The agreement General Andrews believes is the first of importance ever to be reached through non diplomatic channels.

While the General refused to discuss the nature of the agreement arrived at with Great Britain he reported that the conference was "125 per cent successful." The administrative machinery provided for in the agreement is to be founded on "exchange of information and evidence" he said, and "will tend to stop illegal shipping operations."

The eight recommendations in the agreements have been approved by the British foreign office and by the United States department of state and will go into effect at once according to General Andrews.

HURTS HOME PRODUCT

Upon his arrival on the liner France Wednesday night he was reminded that he said that imported liquor was only 20 per cent of the total sold in the United States and that coast guard officials later announced that this figure had been cut in half.

"So even a 100 per cent blockade would only reduce American consumption by ten per cent," he was told. "More than that," he answered. "Every time a story is published that 100 cases of liquor have been smuggled in or have mysteriously disappeared from some warehouse you can bet that these 100 cases will be sold 10,000 times. Every bootlegger in town promises to get his clients some of that good stuff, and the result is that a lot of home made is sold at increased prices."

General Andrews denied that the United States government has poisoned industrial alcohol in an attempt to check liquor drinking. This was charged in New York newspapers.

He denied that government chemists were working to make industrial alcohol too odorous to drink.

LUMPKIN ELECTED TO HIGH PYTHIAN OFFICE

Chicago—(AP)—Alva N. Lumpkin of Columbia, S. C., was elected supreme vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias on the fourth ballot of the supreme lodge here Thursday. Witte, was chosen by acclamation for the office of supreme chancellor, the highest office in the Pythian gift.

Mr. Witte for two years has been supreme vice chancellor. Precedent has it that supreme vice chancellor be elevated to the supreme office and there was no opposition to Witte. He will succeed John Ballantyne of Boston who will retire from office at the conclusion of the present convention next Tuesday.

LENROOT REPEATS DEBATE CHALLENGE TO BLAINE

NEW COST OF COURT VOTE, SENATOR SAYS

Gave Support to Issue Without Regard to Political Consequences

"I knew when I voted for the world court, and supported it in congress, just what it would cost—I voted for it without regard to political consequences to myself," declared Senator Irvine L. Lenroot to an audience of between five and six hundred persons Wednesday evening in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Senator Lenroot was introduced by Joseph D. Steele, chairman of the Outagamie-co Republican committee, and yet one of the greatest statesmen Wisconsin has ever sent to Washington, whose simple and direct methods have won a place for him high in the councils of this nation. No man would be more greatly mislead than the speaker of the evening. If the people of Wisconsin were to fail to return him to Washington this fall, Mr. Steele declared.

Senator Lenroot discussed four subjects of state and national interest—the proposed St. Lawrence waterway, agriculture, taxation, and the world court, in the order named. He again hurled his now famous challenge to Governor Blaine, his opponent in the race for the governorship in the coming election, for one or more debates on any or all of the questions named, at places to be named by the governor.

The world court is an issue only in Wisconsin and Illinois, Senator Lenroot declared. In all other parts of the country it has been strongly supported. Only one senator, in the state of Illinois, was defeated by an opponent of the court. In all other instances where present senators who supported the world court were defeated, he pointed out, they will be succeeded by other pro-court senators.

COURT IS PEACE AGENCY
Characterizing the court as "the greatest agency of peace since the world began," Senator Lenroot pointed out that it was supported by the great women's organizations of the United States, by the American League, and by the great religious denominations of the country.

"I would rather stand on the side of these organizations and lose, than stand where Governor Blaine stands, and win," he declared emphatically, and his statement won tumultuous applause.

The idea of the world court was born in America 27 years ago, originating in the mind of President McKinley, and was proposed at the first Hague peace conference. It was again supported at the second Hague conference by President Roosevelt.

"I would not be afraid to compare the statesmanship and patriotism of these two great Americans with the statesmanship and patriotism of the present governor at Madison at any time," the senator proclaimed.

Nations cannot be compelled to submit controversies to the court for settlement, even if they are members. Senator Lenroot stated before the United States can submit a question, a vote of two-thirds of the senate, and the consent of the president are necessary.

"If the court could have been established in 1907, and have been in force in 1913, who is there that can say that the great world wars have been avoided?" the speaker questioned, pointing to "the little spark between Serbia and Austria" which started the war.

Senator Lenroot ridiculed the idea of partisan judges in the world court. Germany, not a member of the court, brought five cases to the court, and all these were decided favorably to Germany. Great Britain would never have a "seven to one" vote, for America is as closely bound to Canada, New Zealand, Australia and Ireland, as these nations are to England.

In 1916 Governor Blaine, at the Republican National convention favored an international tribunal, to which all nations shall be compelled to submit all differences. Senator Lenroot declared, reading the resolution passed at the time. The same resolution favored the establishment of an international army and navy to enforce the decrees of the tribunal.

Senator Lenroot also read the exact text of the world court resolution for which Congressman Cooper, Schneider, Frear and Browne voted.

RIDICULES SCHNEIDER
"Congressman Schneider now says that he did not know for what he was voting," Senator Lenroot said. "I would be ashamed to go before my constituency and tell them that I voted on so important a measure without knowing for what I was voting. You are very unfortunate indeed, my friends, to have a congressman as ignorant as that."

Explaining the proposed St. Lawrence waterway, and his constant activity to promote the project, the speaker painted a picture of "ships flying the flags of every nation in the world in Green Bay harbor," and characterized the waterway as "the greatest project to promote the prosperity of Wisconsin ever conceived by the mind of man." A detailed report on the present thorough survey indicated, will probably be submitted within 60 or 90 days. The waterway will insure low freight rates to the farmers and manufacturers of the middle west, he declared. Opposition of New York in the United States, and Montreal in Canada, for purely selfish reasons, have thus far obstructed prompt action, which, how-

7 HI-Y MEMBERS TO ATTEND Y. M. C. A. CAMP

Seven members of the Hi Y Club of the Appleton Y. M. C. A. will attend the fifth or Hi Y period at Camp Manitowish, located on Boulder Lake at Boulder Junction, from August 25 to Sept. 3. They are Francis McAlister, Robert Eads, Arthur Smith, Robert Mitchell, Russell Renyes, Alexander Manier, and Mark Catlin. Jr. Two or three other members of the club also may attend. Final arrangements for the camp were made at the summer meeting of the Hi Y Club Wednesday night, at which 25 members were present.

Part of the meeting was given over to discussion of the second annual Hi Y retreat, which takes the form of a three-day trip this fall. The retreat will be held in the northern part of the state, at which time activities for the coming year will be prepared. It will probably be held on the last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday before school opens, or on the weekend of the first week of school.

ever, will not be much longer delayed.

Discussing the question of agricultural legislation, Senator Lenroot challenged comparison between the government at Madison and that at Washington. He pointed to his own record as a staunch supporter of the Federal Farm Loan act, which was passed 10 years ago and which made it possible for the government to loan more than one billion dollars to farmers at the lowest possible rate of interest.

Senator Lenroot also discussed the bill, introduced by him in 1923 and passed by congress, by means of which federal farm loan banks and loan money to farmers' cooperative marketing associations.

URGED BUTTER PROBE
In 1924, the speaker said, he urged an investigation comparing the prices of butter in Denmark and in the United States. The report which followed, showed that the farmers of Denmark could produce butter at 11 cents a pound less than was possible in this country. As a result a tariff of 12 cents a pound was imposed on butter.

"This one thing alone has done more for the farmer and will do more, than all the radical proposals that have been made," Senator Lenroot maintained. He pointed to his refusal to vote for the McNary bill, because it appropriated $75,000,000 out of the treasury of the United States for the sole benefit of the cotton planters of the south, but not one dollar for agriculture in the north, and to his refusal to vote to increase the price of wheat, which would increase the price of bread for every laboring man in Wisconsin.

"The only way to reduce taxation is to reduce the expenses of the government," the speaker declared. He stated that the tax bill passed last winter relieved $2,300,000 men and women from the payment of any federal income taxes whatever, because it provides that no married man or head of a family, having an income of less than $2,500 a year shall have any income tax to pay. This federal exemption, he stated, is more than twice as much as the exemption passed by the last legislature under Governor Blaine.

Senator Lenroot said that the "lie" that railroads are guaranteed 6 per cents on all stock and watered stock by the United States under the Esch-Cummings act is being repeated day after day. The political leaders who are promulgating this lie know that it is not true," the speaker declared, stating that "a man who gets votes under false pretenses is guilty of a greater crime than the man who steals money—for the man who steals money is often caught and punished, while the man who steals votes is in no danger of punishment—unless it is at the following election."

Dame Fortune Awaits Congressional Elections To Pick Next President

REPUBLICAN FAVORITES IN THE 1928 PRESIDENTIAL SWEEPSTAKES. READING ACROSS, WE HAVE SPEAKER LONGWORTH, OF WHOM THE PRESIDENT IS AFRAID; COOLIDGE HIMSELF, WHO WILL BE PLAYED TO WIN IF HE ENTERS THE RACE; FRANK LOWDEN, FARMERS' HERO; HERBERT HOOVER, COOLIDGE'S SECOND CHOICE; WILLIAM BORAH, PROGRESSIVE'S HOPE.

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Whether or not President Coolidge is a candidate for re-nomination in 1928 depends on the coming congressional elections.

If the administration is vindicated at the polls next November—that is, if a majority of the Coolidge kind of Republicans are elected to the next senate and lower house—he can be renominated by wanting to be, and nobody doubts that he will.

If the Democrats and insurgents, Republicans—a strong wave of insurgency in his party will be worse for him than some Democratic gains, even the senate to say nothing of the house away from him, it will be a pretty convincing sign that the country has turned him down.

MAY NOT TRY
In that event it will be doubtful if he can be renominated, no matter how hard he tries, and the probabilities are he will say he prefers not to be a candidate again.

Political Washington assumes that President Coolidge, if defeated in the coming congressional elections, will not try to throw his nomination to Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Hoover will hardly be much more satisfactory to Republican insurgency than Coolidge is.

Still, a retiring president, even though he retires against his will, is in a position to be very helpful to his choice of a successor. In such a situation in 1928, Hoover's chances will depend on how strong Republican conservatism is then.

If the progressive group in the party makes a formidable showing in the fall, Senator William E. Borah's presidential prospects will immediately improve. Without regarding Borah as a particularly safe bet yet, Washington's impression is that he may develop into one on short notice almost any time.

As a farmers' candidate, Frank O. Lowden is spoken of here as the likeliest selection. Should the corn prove, in November, to be in a frame of mind which absolutely demands placation, it is believed here that Lowden will be quite a likely choice.

Vice President Dawes and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana are receptive farm candidates, too, but Dawes' chances are not considered as good as Lowden's and Watson's are not deemed nearly as good.

Reports are coming from New York that ex-Secretary of State Hughes would like to have the presidential lightning strike him again. Washington politicians can see no special reason why he should be nominated again but have hardly had time since rumors of his candidacy began reaching here, to size up his prospects.

OLD FIDDLERS TO COMPETE AT FAIR

Old time fiddlers of this part of the state will have a chance to compete for cash and merchandise prizes in an old fiddlers contest which will be held at the Northeastern Wisconsin fair at De Pere, if plans now being completed by E. A. Seymour, Brown-co superintendent of schools, and the fair association, are successful. The fair will be held from August 30 to Sept. 3.

The contest will be held in the education department Exhibition building Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Sept. 1 and 2, according to plans. An elimination contest will be held Wednesday evening and the final Thursday evening.

It is reported that the fair directors have agreed to supply $50 in cash prizes, and a number of merchandise prizes will be offered in addition to add to the interest, it is said. All that is necessary to make this one of the big features of the entertainment program is a large number of entries. Several have been received already and there is every indication that the fiddlers will come in in large numbers.

NEWSPAPERS ARE HIDING FACTS, BLAINE CHARGES

Says Copies of Political Speeches Are Being Suppressed Continually

Orfordville—(P)—Governor Blaine declared in a campaign speech here Thursday that "many of the daily newspapers" suppress copies of political speeches sent to them, thereby keeping from the people "the facts and the truths that are being presented by the progressive candidates in this campaign."

"Many of the daily newspapers suppress copies of speeches that are daily sent in by representatives of the several reporting agencies," the governor said. "The people therefore are unable to learn, through these daily papers the facts and the truth that are being presented by the progressive candidates in this campaign."

The newspapers which publish the news are entitled to commendation. For those newspapers that suppress the news and which are propaganda sheets and personal organs of the stalwart candidates there is a remedy that can be applied.

"A newspaper is presumed to be a public utility, to carry the news of the day, the political news, without discrimination as to candidates. When newspapers designedly suppress the news and discriminate against candidates, the remedy that the people can apply is to withdraw their subscriptions. People do not pay their good money for distorted news or lies. They pay their money for newspapers as they would pay their railroad fare or street car fare for service. The subscribers are entitled to that service without discrimination and a truthful statement as to daily events.

"It is very evident that the people are beginning to realize that the propaganda sheets and personal organs are over-playing their game in their attempt to stampede the people. I have campaigned in 51 counties and I find the progressive lines holding tight, and to the progressive ranks are added daily new recruits on the issue of the World Court and the demand for a clean and honest government."

Assistant Secretary of War McNider has a considerable following for 1928 and occasionally one hears his name mentioned in connection with 1928.

Gov. Pinchot of Pennsylvania undoubtedly had the presidency in mind when he sought the Republican nomination for the senate from the Keystone state, but, of course, is completely out of the running now.

Six months ago 1928 Republican presidential talk was of President Coolidge almost exclusively. A good many candidates are under discussion today.

APPLETON YOUTHS ARE PROMINENT AT CAMP

Several Appleton young men are prominent figures at Camp Manitowish, the Y. M. C. A. camp at Boulder Junction, this summer. J. Alden Behrke, who will be a senior at the University of Wisconsin next year, is social director on the executive staff, and one of the two managing editors of the camp publication, "Manitowish Trails." Marshal Hulbert, whose home is at Wausau, but who was a student at Lawrence college, also is a member of the executive staff, holding the position of steward. Edward Elton, another executive, is banker.

Two members of the boys' division of the local Y. M. C. A. have been making a name for themselves the past few weeks. Ted Bolton recently scattered the camp room for the shot put, throwing an eight pound shot 33 ft 4 inches. Tad Meyer has become an amateur journalist, and is writing articles for the Manitowish Trails.

WETS CAN SEE MAJORITY IN NEXT CONGRESS

Headquarters of Association Against Dry Amendment Is Optimistic

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Headquarters of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment is about the most optimistic place in Washington these days.

As the anti-prohibition folk see it, things have been breaking their way so fast recently that they actually believe—or profess to believe—a majority in the next congress, which is more than they dared hope for until very recently. They did look for gains, they say, and for victory in a number of statewide referenda, but not for a congressional majority earlier than two years hence.

The senate's prohibition investigation and the prohibition angle of its slush fund inquiry laid a good foundation for moist campaigning, preliminary to the fall elections, spokesmen at wet headquarters observe, but they never expected to see such a superstructure on top of it as later developments have built there.

ANDREWS MAY QUIT
The sequence of events was rapid. First came the Dwyer rum ring trial, with its revelation of coast guard graft and of A. Bruce Bielaski as a dry undercover man for the justice department at a salary of $12,200 a year, or $2,200 more than the next best paid man in the entire department except Attorney General Sargent, and within $1,800 of what Sargent himself gets.

Then followed unofficial but almost certainly authentic confirmation of reports that Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews will resign as dry czar, as soon as he returns from England, on the ground that prohibition is unenforceable without stricter laws than now exist, which seems an impossibility, inasmuch as so dry a congress as the present one failed to enact them at its last session.

FIRED GREEN
Finally came the suspension, by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Winston, of the northern California and Nevada prohibition administrator, Col. Nevada Green, on charges of drinking seized liquor, giving it to his friends and entertaining them at wet parties.

When it is considered that Green was Andrews' right bower and supposedly was slated to succeed him, it becomes apparent that this was extremely serious.

The remark attributed to Green—"Sure I drink, I'm no dry, I'm a regular fellow"—did nothing to help matters.

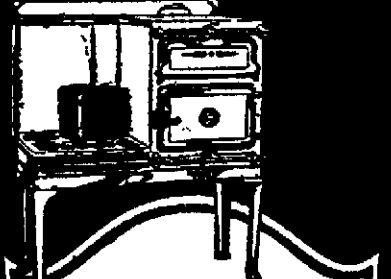

The wet view is that these major happenings, in connection with the regular run of minor ones of a similar character will produce a decided reaction at the polls in November—a damp one.

PARTIES WORRIED
The Anti-Saloon League attitude is that enforcement has been in the hands of prohibition's real friends, and that this is the explanation of its admitted laxity.

Flaws in enforcement, which is one of its duties, obviously is a grave embarrassment to the party in power. The opposition's embarrassment would be very gratifying to the Democrats if they themselves were not so badly split on the same issue. As it is, it annoys them quite as much as it does the administration.

Be Careful Tomorrow, Folks, For It Is Friday, The 13th

Tomorrow will be Friday, Aug. 13, the first and only "Friday the 13th" in 1926, and the good or bad luck day for Appleton people, whichever way they chose to consider it. For years Friday and "13" have been linked together with mystic properties, probably starting with the beginning of civilization centuries ago.

Just why number 13 should be considered unlucky by most folks inclined toward the mystical things of nature is hard to state. Probably the old superstition existed long before the Christian era, but since the coming of Christ it has been much more prevalent than previously, for the fact that there were 13 at the Last Supper is considered to be the origin of the belief that one of a party of 13 which dares to partake of a feast will die soon. Centuries of a popular belief have done much to strengthen the old superstition attached to "13" and this belief has grown until now it is placed in the same category as the broken mirror and the black cat.

An assortment of reasons is offered for the time-worn superstition that Friday is a day of ill-omen. For hun-

EXCURSION FARES ARE OFFERED FOR FAIR

Milwaukee —(P)—Excursion fares to the Wisconsin State Fair, Aug. 30 to Sept. 4, of one and one-quarter cents a mile have been provided by all railroads, A. B. Alexander, business manager, announced Wednesday. The minimum fare will be $1. Tickets will be sold through fair week with return limit from points from which the normal one-way fare of $3 or less, one day from date of sale, and from territory beyond, two days from date of sale.

Neither the Friday or her crew were ever heard from again, but seafolk still tell that when a storm is raging at sea and mighty combers are breaking on the rocks of the shore, that a phantom ship can be seen riding the tops of the waves like a greyhound, and on her sides, flashing in the spray, are the words "Friday of Wilmington," a grim reminder to those who contemplate laughing at superstition!

Not long after the launching, a heavy storm arose, and an inbound vessel, seeking shelter near the shore, saw a mighty ship, with the inscription "Friday of Wilmington" on her sides, riding the crest of the breakers, headed out to sea. Suddenly, so the crew of the inbound vessel later reported, the big ship leaped forward behind a huge comber, and disappeared.

One of the most popular beliefs that Friday is "hoodooed" arises from the story of the old sea captain, Isaac Harvey, who lived on the coast over 100 years ago, when the belief in witches was still in style. Captain Harvey, so goes the old tale, was a very practical-minded man, and he resolved to blast the old theory. Accordingly he laid the prow of the good ship "Friday," and despite the protests of his wife that he tear the boat asunder and begin anew on Saturday, for he had begun building on Friday, he launched the vessel one fine day, and the day of the launching was Friday.

A cool, refreshing treat awaits you at the soda fountain

"CANADA DRY!" Just say those two magic words to your cheerful friend behind the counter and he will serve you the coolest and most refreshing drink you've ever tasted on a hot summer's day.

You will like the wonderful flavor, of course, for there is no ginger ale in all the world with a flavor so supremely fine as this.

But there is an even more important reason why you will like "Canada Dry." It's a real ginger ale, made from real Jamaica ginger.

Because of this it lifts you up! Refreshes! Invigorates! Makes you feel keen and cool and cheery, no matter how hot the day.

Especially in summer-time you want a beverage that you know is good for you, and you get just that when you ask for "Canada Dry."

Substitutes can't possibly bring you the same refreshment because most of them aren't real ginger ales at all, but owe their "bite" to capicum, or red pepper. There is no capicum in "Canada Dry."

That's something to remember when you step up to the fountain and you're wondering what to order.

It's worth paying a little more just to be sure of the definite assurance of purity and quality that you get in "Canada Dry."

Imitations are never "just as good"

There are literally thousands of imitations of "Canada Dry" on the market today and you must be careful if you want the original. For your own protection, insist that the bottle comes to you with the cap on, and always look for the name "Canada Dry" on the bottle cap. That's the best way to be sure of the matchless flavor and quality that have made "Canada Dry" the sensation of Canada and of this country.

REVOLT IN SIGHT

One of the things the late Senator La Follette was instrumental in securing, and which was hailed by the people as an important political reform, was the substitution of the primary for the convention in nominating candidates for public office. The chief criticism of the convention system was that it promoted machine politics and made it comparatively easy for a few men to boss the convention and dictate the nomination of a hand-picked slate. The primary was designed to insure popular rule as against boss rule.

Directly the reverse has come to pass in Wisconsin. When the time came to prepare for the selection of candidates for United States senator, governor, and the various other state officers, this is what happened: A group of politicians, styling themselves Progressives and claiming exclusive succession to the late Senator La Follette's political power and stewardship by divine right of his policies and wishes, got together in a back room and prepared a slate for these offices. Notice was in effect served on all others within or without the Progressive party that no other candidates for these offices would be tolerated. Any Progressive who had the temerity to aspire to one of these offices in opposition to the slate was to be styled a renegade and driven out of the party. It was as flagrant an exhibition of boss rule as has ever been undertaken in any state in any election.

This machine has been running things with a high hand for several years. Its titular head is Governor Blaine. Two years ago a similar slate was fixed up. At that time a number of life-long Progressives and close friends of the late Senator La Follette remonstrated and rebelled against what they justly termed political tyranny.

E. J. Gross of Milwaukee, one of the prominent and old Progressives of Wisconsin, who presented the late Senator La Follette's name for president at two Republican national conventions, repudiated Blaine's attempt to usurp power to himself and his machine. At the election of 1924, Fred R. Zimmerman, a thoroughly orthodox Progressive aspired to be secretary of state. The Blaine machine had a hand-picked candidate of its own for that office, and Mr. Zimmerman was warned he must not run. Clinton Ballard, a leading Progressive of Outagamie-co, at that time treasury agent of the administration at Madison, has just related some additional facts bearing on that incident. In a statement issued Tuesday at Madison, in which he comes out in support of Mr. Zimmerman's candidacy for governor, Mr. Ballard says:

To illustrate the way in which the "Madison Ring" seeks to control candidates for state offices, I'll give you the high lights of a conference I had with Blaine two years ago.

Governor Blaine called me to his office at that time and said to me: "I understand you are supporting Fred Zimmerman for secretary of state. Don't you know that I have a candidate against him and that as one of my official family (I was state treasury agent at that time) you are supposed to support the candidate that I endorse?"

I told Governor Blaine I had known Fred Zimmerman for many years, and that I had always found him to be a true Progressive and an honest, upright gentleman and an efficient public official. I said I didn't know his (Blaine's) candidate for secretary of state. Blaine then went on to say that as one of my suggestions I, of course, knew what could be done to me. Then I offered to resign. Governor Blaine found it more expedient to leave me in office and not re-appoint me when my term was up.

Exactly these tactics are being used in the present primary. Mr. Zimmerman was elected secretary of state despite Blaine's opposition and his hand-picked candidate, and now Mr. Zimmerman is running for governor. For this ambition he is roundly denounced by Blaine and his coterie as a renegade Progressive, but there are increasing signs that Mr. Zimmerman is going to be nominated for governor despite the attacks on him by the Blaine slate. So far as his progressivism goes, Mr. Ballard says the late Senator La Follette said to him shortly before he died: "Keep your eye on this boy Zimmerman; he is destined to do big things in this state. I've known Fred Zimmerman for twenty years and he has always been right." In this same primary election the Blaine machine is denying the right of Stanley Smith, insurance commissioner, to aspire to a higher office and of Mr. Ballard to run for state treasurer against Sol Levitan. The record shows clearly a determination of a small clique, headed by Blaine, to boss the Progressive party in Wisconsin. This clique, known as the "Madison ring", has subverted not only the principles of the primary itself, but has substituted for it boss rule that threatens the solidarity and future of the progressive movement.

So thoroughly are these facts appreciated by genuine Progressives throughout the state that the revolt against Blaine and his machine is spreading rapidly and in all directions. The Wisconsin Farmer, a Progressive publication, read by several hundred thousand farmers in Wisconsin, has repudiated Blaine and his slate and is supporting Lenroot for senator. So with the Madison Capital Times, the outstanding Progressive daily newspaper of the state. Only the other day Rep. Schafer, Progressive congressman from Milwaukee, issued a scathing attack on the Blaine machine and announced his support of Zimmerman for governor and Lenroot for senator. The Shawano County Advocate says the farmers of that county are off Blaine, and so it goes throughout the state.

The real issue in this election would seem to be the overthrow of bossism and machine rule, and the preservation of the primary. The public generally is coming to see this, and to resist dictation by the "Madison ring." This is why so many citizens of all classes and party affiliation are coming out in support of Zimmerman for governor and Lenroot for senator. They believe it to be for the best interest of the state to break up the Blaine machine, whose principal contribution to our political economy has been excessive taxation, extravagance, and the replacement of popular rule by machine rule, concerned only with advancing the personal ambition of its members for power and place. It is beginning to look like a sweeping revolt.

MASS EDUCATION

Addressing the National Education association at its sixty-fourth annual convention in Philadelphia, Professor William C. Bagley, of Teachers' College, Columbia University, declared that "mass education, not the education of leaders, is the bulwark of democracy." Pointing to Russia, Italy, Spain and Poland, he said that their leaders had been highly trained, while popular education was allowed to languish, with the result that these countries are now ruled by dictators, beneficent or otherwise.

On the other hand, constitutional government has been preserved in the generally enlightened nations of western Europe despite the terrific strains of the same war and post-war conditions that overthrew it in eastern and southern Europe. Peoples that are leaders in the education of the masses need no Mussolini or Pilsudski to carry them through national crises.

The public school as known in this country is the greatest safeguard of the nation. Every effort should be made to keep it at the highest point of effectiveness.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

Say, bring on the butter, an' bring on the salt. To pleasure that's comin' please don't put a halt. Our lips 'er all smakin' our eyes shinin' bright—we're gonna have green corn tonight.
Yea, mother's been shoppin'. Her judgment is rare. When buyin' up groceries, I'll tell ya, she's there. She knows what's the wrong stuff and, too, what's the right—were gonna have green corn tonight.
This time of the year always brings the desire for something that boils over a plippin' hot fire. They're put on the pans, and they're turned on the light—we're gonna have green corn tonight.
A bid to dine out, I was given today. And did I accept it? I would have, but, say, fer me ta be misin' just wouldn't be right—we're gonna have green corn tonight.

First five months of summer always are the hottest.

DIET TO PREVENT GALLSTONES

Many laymen still confuse gallstones with stone in the kidney or stone in the bladder. Gallstone forms in the bile or gall tract either in the duct or tube which conveys bile from the liver into the upper portion of intestine or in the gall sac which is a little reservoir for the temporary storage of an ounce or two of bile. Gallstone has nothing in common with stone in the kidney or stone in the bladder.

In certain illnesses, notably typhoid fever, germs are eliminated through the bile ducts or the gall sac without necessarily setting up any inflammation or disease of these structures. But in some cases more or less inflammation or disease is set up by the germ and in such cases it makes a happen that long after recovery from the fever, a mass or clump of the germs in the bile will become the center for the deposit or accumulation of layer after layer of material from the bile, to form gallstone.

In certain cases of scarcely troublesome infection of the tonsils, gums or teeth, thanks to a special affinity of the germs thereof for mucous membrane, there occurs a focal infection—a lodgment of some of the germs in the gall tract, where germs produce either chronic inflammation or, as an accidental event, gallstones.

It is possible though not now so generally believed as formerly, that gall stones may form without the agency of germs. It may be that the bile of certain individuals is too thick, or contains too much cholesterol, or too great a concentration of some of the mineral elements, by reason of which there is a greater tendency for the precipitation or deposit of solid matter to form a gallstone.

The main reason why this latter theory of the formation of gallstones is still entertained by some physicians is that the condition is most common among fat, sedentary women. Fat, lazy people often blame their condition on a "torpid liver"—a mere theory which they fondly cherish. Once upon a time the doctors themselves took some stock in such a theory. But with modern diagnostic methods the concept of a "torpid liver" or "liver trouble" has been abandoned.

One thing modern physiological chemistry has shown, however, is that a substance normally present in the bile, and called cholesterol, sort of a modified fatty material, constitutes a considerable portion of most gallstones, and the proportion of this cholesterol present in the bile is found excessive in many cases of gallstone disease as well as in cases of gall sac inflammation (called cholecystitis) without or before the formation of gallstones.

It is impossible to tell when a gallstone is beginning to form, in a case of gall sac or gall duct inflammation and so many physicians think it wise to prescribe for such persons a diet poor in cholesterol (food material from which cholesterol may be derived). Briefly, the foods which contain considerable of this material are cream, yolk of egg, brain, liver, sweetbread, kidneys and fish roe. These should be avoided. All forms of animal fat should be taken only sparingly. Otherwise the diet is as good as you please afford, though generally it is well to include liberal quantities of water, greens and fresh fruits. As such a diet also tends to prevent obesity it serves a double purpose.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Pipe Dream

I read some time ago about some quack doctor whose headquarters was raided, and they found he had a stock of tapeworms enveloped in capsules which he gave to people to reduce. .... (T. T. F.)
Answer—The yarn has become mixed up. A quack whose joint was raided was found equipped with a stock of rubber imitation tapeworms, which presumably he had it's victims or customers swallow, in order to treat them for the "monsters." The notion that a tapeworm makes its host thin is certainly not founded on fact for most persons who really harbor tapeworm are rather too well nourished, overweight.

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Ill. She declares that after taking the Compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., writes: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends." These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness, their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their household easily, happy homes are the result.

"Apparently," he said, "my campaign for election as governor will not end with the September primaries but will be carried on after the primaries when the 'Madison ring' will enter another 'game' candidate in the gubernatorial race as an independent in a last desperate effort to keep the ranks of office-holding 'Madison ring' members intact."

GRID ASPIRANTS GETTING READY

NORMAL SUMMER SESSION CLOSES

Organized Practice Will Not Start Until Opening of School Term

Conduct Final Examinations Friday and Saturday for 127 Students

Kaukauna—William Smith, Kaukauna high school athletic coach, has issued instructions to all high school football candidates to prepare for the coming football season. Every day finds several veterans passing the ball around and although it is a bit early Coach Smith believes it high time the locals get started. However, organized practice will not start until the opening of the school term, when all candidates will work out together.

It is difficult to predict Kaukauna's chances of developing another championship team again this year. There appears to be plenty of material, but whether it can be molded into another fighting machine like that of last year remains to be seen. Coach Smith will have at least six good candidates for the backfield and should be able to select a winning combination. Kaukauna has a difficult schedule this year, three games being with conference teams, West Green Bay, Oshkosh, and Appleton. Kaukauna plays just as many conference games as some members of the conference do. Last year Kaukauna lost but one game, and that to the strong West Green Bay squad. This season Kaukauna plays at West Green Bay.

Grow Hair this New Way!

An entirely new method of scalp treatment has been perfected. It is totally unlike anything you have ever seen or heard of before. Its simplicity will delight you. Its results amaze you. But one treatment a week for most hair troubles. There is no after-odor. No greasy effect.

Seborrhea Causes Baldness

Hair bulbs seldom die from natural causes. They don't come out with the hair. But frequently they become weakened. Seborrhea is most often the cause. The hair now becomes dull, lifeless and starts falling excessively—eventually baldness takes place. But here is the marvelous thing. Remove infection—stimulate dormant hair bulbs to renewed activity and the hair grows again.

HERE IS PROOF

"I consulted Dr. — of Johnson, Pa., my home town. His recommendation for the treatment was 'STIM'—I had occasion to have my hair trimmed up a little last week and the barber noticed a lot of new hairs coming out along the front and sides where I was principally troubled. I was principally troubled."

E. H. C. State College, Pa.

"I have been using STIM and find it the best thing for baldness and have about got my baldness cured."

E. S. Birmingham, Ala.

WOMEN, TOO

"It is a wonderful treatment. My head was bald almost and now I used STIM my hair has all grown back."

(Mrs.) M. L. Youngstown, O.

"My hair is white and I never knew it could be so pretty. It falls all over after a STIM treatment."

(Mrs.) J. B. D. Chicago, Ill.

"Pleased to say that my hair has improved wonderfully. I also recommended STIM to my sister and she is greatly satisfied."

FAIRBANKS-GARON NEXT

William Fairbanks, the popular actor-athlete, has been selected by the Motion Picture Production Code to play the part of "The Fighting Youth," which comes to the New Bijou Friday and Saturday.

Others in the strong supporting cast are George Periolat, William Norton Bailey, Pat Harmon, Frank Hagney, Tom Carr, and Jack Britton—the famous boxer. Reeves Esmond directed.

Fairbanks plays a dashing young clubman who is called a coward because he will not fight for fear of losing his sweetheart.

But he does fight after all. Then follows a wild series of adventures and dizzy escapes. Into the fight he puts all the anger and resentment he feels for his opponent. Then, at the moment of his terrible adventures, the young hero turns to his sweetheart, and amid the shouts of the crowd, carries her to love and happiness.

GAY AND SPECTACULAR

There is a gay, spectacular and unusually entertaining play at the Elite Theatre, where "The Love Toy," a Warner picture, is showing today and tomorrow with the sophisticated Lowell Sherman as its star.

Sherman, as ever, gives a perfect performance. He plays a young American jilted on his wedding day and, forswearing the fair sex forever, who goes to seek forgetfulness in the tiny kingdom of Moravia.

Here the foppish king—this is William Lloyd as the top notch of his screen characterizations—makes him his favorite advisor. There is the lovely princess, played by Helene Costello, with whom the jilted groom falls in love; there is Gayne Whitman as his rival and the scheming Prime Minister of Moravia; there is Ethel Grey Terry as a beautiful queen who pursues Sherman with her love; there is the slender and graceful Myrna Loy as an exotic dancer; and there is Jane Winton, a brilliant newcomer, as a fair but false bride.

Eric Kenton has directed this brilliant case with such skill, that "The Love Toy" takes its place among the best pictures of the season.

WINNING PLAYERS IN "THE EASY MARK"

That there never was a more interesting and bright, laughable comedy than "The Easy Mark" produced on Broadway in years was the consensus of opinion among the New York critics, and this opinion was subsequently justified by the long run which this hit enjoyed at the 39th Street Theatre.

The John D. Winning Players have been fortunate enough to secure the privilege of producing "The Easy Mark" at the Appleton Theatre next Sunday, and it is predicted that this great success will be the highlight of the local stock season.

The subject of this amusing comedy deals with oil—that famous substance which not so very long ago furnished so many good newspaper stories—and salt water. The story is applicable to everyday life, and if we may descend to slang, it bears out the saying: "there is a sucker born every minute."

Sam Crane, a dreamer with ideas of becoming a multi-millionaire, who is entrusted with the care of his mother and his sister and also the family's carefully hoarded $6,000, becomes the laughing-stock of the small community in which he lives when it becomes known that he has fallen a victim of two oil swindlers.

He is plagued as an easy mark, and his efforts to get an honest-to-goodness job are futile. The tide of events changes, however, but to divulge the exceedingly amusing and well worked-out situations which follow would be to detract materially from the interest of the play, which goes on to witness the local theatre next week to witness this clever comedy hit.

SUPREME COURT WILL HEAR BEER CASE SEPT. 18

Calendar for August Term Is Announced by Arthur Mc-Leod, Clerk

Madison —(P)—The proposed Wisconsin beer referendum will have its day in court on next Sept. 18.

The case testing the validity of the referendum proposal has been set for argument before the state supreme court on that date.

The state was initiated by Walter Bender, Milwaukee attorney, on behalf of S. A. Fulton, an official of the Anti-Saloon League. He seeks an injunction restraining Secretary of State Fred R. Zimmerman from placing on the ballots in the November election the question whether congress shall be memorialized by the legislature to modify the Volstead act so as to legalize beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol.

Secretary of State Zimmerman has announced that he intends to obey the legislature's mandate that the referendum be conducted. Attorney General Herman L. Ekern stated he will appear in defense of the proposed referendum.

The calendar for the August term of the supreme court announced Wednesday by Arthur A. McLeod, clerk, lists 268 cases, including 233
civil actions, and 35 state cases, the criminal cases being included among the latter. The number of cases is less than that of the August term last year, but greater than that of the January term which was just concluded. There were 289 cases in the August, 1925, term and 203 in the January term this year.

A number of cases of wide interest are slated in the August calendar, and will be set for argument during the coming fall and winter.

One of the cases is that testing the validity of the 1925 law whereby papers in damage suits are served upon automobile owners living outside of Wisconsin through the secretary of state. A. C. Cronkhite of Chicago asks a writ of prohibition to prevent a damage suit in which he is defendant being tried in the Kenoshaco circuit court.

The case arises from injuries alleged to have been received by Mrs.
Mary Julius when, she charges, she was struck by Cronkhite's automobile.

Another pending case involves the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco pool. In a dispute over the alleged sale outside of the pool of tobacco owned by members, the representatives of certain persons in the pool sought to examine the organization's books. The pool obtained a temporary injunction preventing the examination, and the supreme court was asked to set aside the injunction.

Two insurance cases are also pending. They involve the Wisconsin Inspection Bureau and the Mutual Church and Home Insurance company of Milwaukee. In the latter case, W. Stanley Smith, former insurance commissioner, sought to compel the company to transact its business in Wisconsin, instead of Chicago, where it is alleged to have offices.

The court will convene at 10 a. m., Sept. 14 for the opening of the August term. Mr. McLeod announced the first assignment of cases for argument as follows:

Sept. 14—Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11.
Sept. 15—Nos. 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17,

DEVILS LAKE IS BEAUTIFUL SPOT

Rugged Bluffs Surrounding Water Form Picturesque
Scene for Tourist

Baraboo —(P)—Loafing in the barnham scented shade of still woods letting the fancy stray back to the days when the redskins moved noiselessly among the trees following war trails of stalking game without rustling a leaf! The vacationist who dreams of that sort of thing may find it in Devils Lake park about three miles south of this town.

Within this area, which is a state park, are 1,040 acres of land which forms a natural playground. Devil's Lake is one and one-fourth miles long,
one half-mile wide and has a maximum depth of 43 feet.

Rugged bluffs of quartzite rise on the east, west and south shores to a height of 610 feet. The lake is a beautiful sheet of water without a visible outlet, fed by springs, and surrounded by the great crags and bluffs of rock thrown up by the volcanic action of some former age.

There are several interesting rock formations, including the "Doorway," the "Needle," and "Turk's Head." Indian mounds are found in the park,
the most striking being the eagle, bear and lynx mounds.

Recreation facilities include beaches,
a golf course and camp sites. Bathing, boating, climbing, riding and other outdoor pursuits are the recreations offered.

The park is readily accessible over the Wisconsin state highway system.

MELLON, VARE COMPROMISE IS ALREADY SEEN

Election of Vare to Senate Predicted by Political Experts

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington—Senator Jim Reed's slush fund investigation has progressed far enough now so that Washington believes Frank L. Smith stands a little chance of being seated in the upper house of congress, even if he wins the senate fight in Illinois.
as William S. Vare stands if he wins in Pennsylvania.

Politicians at the capital, however,
are not so sure that Smith will carry Illinois as they are that Vare will carry Pennsylvania.

Smith's Democratic rival, George Brennan, has no such enormous Republican majority to overcome in the Sucker State as William B. Wilson, opposing Vare, will have to overcome
in order to win in the Keystone State.
Pennsylvania Democrats have their hopes, of course, but they're not very brilliant.

Smith, then, may escape the humiliation of a rejection by the senate, by being beaten at the polls.

Prospects are extremely poor that Vare will get out of his difficulties in a similar manner. Elected, nothing can prevent his credentials from being turned down but an overwhelmingly Republican senate, and the best political judgment is that the next one will be anything but overwhelmingly Republican.

Vare being eliminated, it will be up to J. S. Fisher, Republican candidate for governor, who is sure to be elected to fill the Pennsylvania vacancy by appointment.

There already is much speculation as to whom Fisher will pick, if called on to make a selection.

It is here that Ralph Beaver Strassburger, so frequently mentioned as just on the point of breaking into politics in a big way, comes into the picture.

Fisher belongs to the Mellon wing of Pennsylvania Republicanism, and it may seem as if, given the opportunity, he would name a Mellon man for the senate. However, the Mellon interests are so delighted at having re-established harmony with the Vare faction after the bitter primary fight that political dopests think they'll hesitate at affronting Vare, by ignoring him completely.

The whole situation hints—if Vare is elected and his seat is refused to him—at a compromise.

That's just what Strassburger would be.

He's very friendly with the Mellons.
He on intimate terms with Fisher.
Yet he supported Vare, though not in a way to make enemies in the Mellon group.

He's the owner of an influential newspaper at Norristown, in the eastern part of the state, and an eastern appointment is indicated, the other senator, David A. Reed, being from Pittsburg.

Strassburger was the favorite of a great many Pennsylvania politicians at the late primary, but couldn't make the run, due to being unavoidably detained abroad until too late.

In short, he is a very logical candidate.

CALLAHAN TO SUCCEED LUECK ON STATE BOARD

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—John M. Callahan, chairman of the state central committee, was named to succeed Martin L. Lueck as a member of the national here Tuesday at an executive meeting of the state committee.

CONSIDERING
LADY—You ask very high wages for a cook, considering your slight experience.

APPLICANT—Well, ma'am, ain't the work harder for me when I don't know how?—Punch, London.

Natural Iodine In Deep Sea Water

Natural Iodine—the right kind of Iodine, comes from the sea and there is just enough of it in Ocean-O, the deep sea water blood treatment for those who have simple goitre or thyroid gland trouble.

Besides Iodine there are many other natural mineral elements in Ocean-O that are easily absorbed into the blood and carry their rich upbuilding atoms to every organ, gland and tissue in the body, putting new vigor into the human organism and creating abundant strength and vitality in those who are weak, run down, nervous and depressed.

Ocean-O is highly concentrated deep sea water distilled and filtered and the excess common salt removed and as one teaspoonful in a glass of water constitutes a dose a 10-ounce bottle which you can get from Voigt's Drug Store or any pharmacist anywhere lasts a long time.

Any physician will tell you that deep sea water has in it every mineral element that is found in pure, healthy blood and that is why Ocean-O is so much in demand by the people whose blood needs it's alkalizing influence and especially by those who have eczema or obstinate skin eruptions and rheumatism due to acidity of the blood.

MILITARY BAND GAINING FAVOR

Organization Is Greeted With Enthusiasm Wherever It Plays

Citizens of Appleton and vicinity who frequently have occasion to hear the 120th Field Artillery band, do not realize with what enthusiasm the band is greeted in other cities, according to E. A. Schmalz, 313 N. Drew-st., who returned Tuesday evening from Camp Robinson, six miles from Sparta.

On Monday evening the band played at Sparta, without preliminary announcement, at the request of prominent citizens, Mr. Schmalz declared. Within a very short time after the concert began there were thousands of persons on the street. Each number called for encore after encore. Much the same spirit was manifested wherever the band appeared.

Concerts were given by the band
Tuesday night at Tomah, and Wednesday night at Mauston. Thursday night the band is scheduled to appear at LaCrosse. The organization will return to Appleton Saturday evening and will play Sunday at the annual firemen's picnic at Brillion.

Many Friends Interested In This Man's Recovery

Is Well-known All Over This Section. Tells How Dreco Ended His Suffering.

"When I first went to see the Dreco man I had suffered from stomach trouble for four or five years and had tried medicine a plenty without any relief, but this Dreco put my system in better condition than it had been in for many a long day."

The above is a statement made by Mr. F. M. Williams, R. R. No. 3, Pendleton, Ind., who boasts of being a full-blooded "Hoosier" who has never been outside the borders of his own state but who has thousands of friends and acquaintance here at home. For 31 years he ran his own farm at Pendleton but retired three years ago and came to Anderson. But because no one could manage the farm as well as himself he moved back recently and is now once more a successful farmer.
"I can now eat anything," he continues, "without having the gas form in my stomach and put me in misery and nothing I eat sours or gives me heartburn. I used to get such dizzy spells I'd almost topple over but these, too, have been relieved and I now feel better than I have in years. I earnestly recommend Dreco to all my friends."

Dreco is made of the juices and ex-

GIRLS ENJOYING HANDCRAFT WORK

Classes in Sewing, Painting, Making Toys—Are Offered
at Camp Onaway

Handcraft classes are popular with girls at Camp Onaway. The classes are held at 9:30 every day and include instruction in sewing, painting, embroidering, making wooden toys
which are mounted on platforms with wheels, and making rag dolls.
Miss Lorraine Drury of Green Bay is in charge of the work.

The New London girls volleyball team met the councilor's team in a match game Wednesday afternoon.
The girls are divided into two factions, one boosting the councilors and the other backing the New London team. Volleyball is a popular sport.

The dramatic class, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Gosnell, is working on two productions, "Spreading the News," and "Gains and Gains Junior." The plays will be presented at the daily campfire meeting which is held each evening.

The nature class, under the direction of Miss Mary Morton of Marinette recently took a trip to a government island near the camp and spent the morning studying trees and shrubbery on the island. In the afternoon the girls met in the mess hall and studied birds.

Miss Florence Valentine of Appleton is teaching the girls, signaling and many of them have become proficient both in sending and receiving messages. Some of the girls plan to take their girl scout signaling tests
after they have learned the code.

There are 76 girls at camp for the second week. The period will close Saturday.

COUNCIL FAILS TO CHOOSE SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL

Selection of Property Is Referred to Board and Committee of Whole

Menasha—Selection of a school site in the Second ward was referred by Mayor N. G. Remmel to the committee of the whole and board of education Wednesday evening at an adjourned meeting of the common council. Two sites are under consideration. They are the Schwartzbauer property on Tayco-st, 200 feet south of Sixth-st and the present school property at the corner of Tayco and Second-sts.

The former property consists of about four acres of land on which an option has been secured for $7,500, including the residence, thereon, of $5,700 without it. The committee of the whole and the board of education were instructed to report their recommendation at the midmonthly meeting of the common council Tuesday evening, Aug. 17.

A remonstrance against raising the sidewalk on Fourth-st between De Pere and Appleton-sts was referred to the street committee and the two aldermen of the ward in which the street is located. Alderman Joseph Coyte called attention to the flooding caused by the sewer on Abbey-st. The matter was referred to the street committee and Third ward aldermen.

Alderman Coyte also called attention to the speeding of bus drivers on Main-st and particularly at the corner of Racine and Main-sts. The alderman said he followed one driver with his car and found he was traveling 45 miles an hour. Mayor Remmel said he would investigate the matter.

Alderman Theodore Finch said the motion boss of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway company called his attention to the dumping of garbage, ashes and grass on DePere-st. "Shall we continue in the next 25 years to be, as we have during the past 25 years, an experimental station; the results of which are to place upon the people of Wisconsin the enormous tax burden they now labor under?"

"Shall we continue to elect under the name of republican, men who do everything within their power to annihilate that party, using the name as a cloak?"

BLAINE REGIME WAS CLEAN, WIFE ASSERTS

Portage—(P)—Governor Blaine's administration has been "as clean as a hound's tooth" and for that reason he is entitled to support in his senatorial campaign, Mrs. Blaine asserted in an address here Thursday.

"It has been charged that hundreds of civil service employees devote all or much of their time to campaigning," she said. "With reference to this charge, I need only say that no one has ever answered the challenge of Governor Blaine to name a single civil service employee who is campaigning. While it is true that practically every postmaster is working for Senator Lenroot and there are dozens of men in this state now from Washington who are organizing Lenroot agricultural clubs, Lenroot labor clubs, Lenroot women's clubs, and what not, the only persons who are campaigning for the progressive ticket are elective officers and some people who hold no public office."

LABOR COUNCIL WON'T HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

Appleton Trades and Labor council will abandon an annual custom this year by foregoing the picnic on Labor day, Sept. 6. It was decided to eliminate this year's picnic and hold a larger one in 1927, at the regular meeting of the council Wednesday evening in Trades and Labor hall. No good park is available this year, it was pointed out.

Fred E. Bachman, delegate of the council to the state federation of labor convention, made his report. Letters from the department of education of the American Federation of Labor, telling of its work, were read. The department has provided motion pictures and the lectures to aid in educating people in labor problems. The underlying thought of the campaign is to bring home to the workers the great need for cooperation, the letters said. One letter asks the educational committee of local council for its aid in the national work.

VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells
© 1926 by G.P. PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY
In Harbor Gardens, Long Island in an elaborate bungalow, lived PERRY HEATH and his wife, MYRA. They were entertained as house guests:

LAWRENCE INMAN, a distant relative of Myra's, assisted from Perry, her only heir, and BUNNY MOORE, young, vicious, golden-haired, an old friend of Myra's.

Perry, an artist, was a candidate for presidency of the Country Club. The other leading candidate was SAM ANDERSON. Perry's wife was beautiful, but cold and sarcastic. She never used rouge, never wore glasses, she collected rare bits of glass and her latest was a whisky bottle which aroused her husband to scorn.

Myra, provoked at a growing intimacy between Perry and Bunny, announces she has made her will in favor of Inman, cutting Perry off. That night, she quarrels with her husband and alludes mysteriously to his "secret."

That night, Heath, stealing downstairs, surprises his wife with Inman and orders the latter out of the house by morning. The next morning Myra's body is discovered in the studio. Candles are burning at her head and feet. She is made up with rouge and dressed in gay colors.

HERRICK, the butler, discovers near the body a card marked, "The Work of Perry 11-11-26." The doctor, when he comes, finds the death blow was struck with Myra's cherished bottle.

The coroner conducts an examination and it develops that Perry Heath has disappeared during the night in spite of the fact that windows and doors had been locked on the inside. When Inman and Bunny Moore are questioned they both exhibit an unusual degree of nervousness.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER IX
The Harbor Country Club was over on the Park side, but its members included many of the Gardens people as well.

A few of the less active spirits hobbled on the porch and smoked, as they somewhat conservatively discussed the Heath tragedy.

Yet few of the exaggerated accounts could be much worse than the true statements of the awful occurrence.

"Where is Perry Heath?" was the question urged even more frequently than "Who killed Myra?"

Arthur Black, one of the solid men of the club, declared that it was impossible that the murderer should be other than the husband.

"The disappearance of Heath clinches your election, Anderson," Black declared, but the other answered:

"I'm not keen to be elected. And anyway, Heath will come back—he must. To my mind, his absence is no indication at all that he killed his wife. Why should he? Maybe, as you say, Black, the pair were not exactly lovey-dovey, but few married people are, nowadays. Yet it doesn't lead to murder. You'll have to find a bigger motive than mere incompatibility before I'll believe that Heath killed his wife. What about that young chap, her cousin, or whatever he is?"

"LARRY INMAN?" said Forbes.

"Yes, he's her cousin—a distant one, I think. But why should he murder her?"

"He's her heir," put in Black, who always knew all about everybody's business affairs. "There's motive; but, on the other hand, I've heard he was, in love with the pale goddess."

"Did you hear that when they found her, dead, she was all rouged and made up—eyebrows pencilled and all?"—this from Anderson, who was a bit of a gossip.

"Yes, and beside that, there was a red rash tied around her," Black asserted. "And candles burning at her head and feet."

Al Cunningham, who just then joined the group said: "I'm going to the inquest this afternoon. Wonder if Heath will be back for it?"

more from a desire to see Bunny herself.

Nor was he disappointed. He told himself on the spot, that she was the loveliest girl he had ever seen and was the one girl in the world for him, and many such decisions and asseverations.

Bunny acknowledged his introduction with absent minded politeness and asked them to come with her to a small morning room back of the dining room, where they could talk in more seclusion.

"Who is here? Who is looking after you?" demanded Mrs. Prentiss, with her usual brusqueness.

"Nobody," said Bunny. "I am all alone. I'd go home, but the police won't let me. I haven't sent word to my people about this yet—of course, they'll see it when it gets into the papers—but it's all so terrible—so awful—that I couldn't bring myself to write about, and I just couldn't telephone."

"No, no, of course not, my dear. But you can't stay here alone—haven't you heard a word from Mr. Heath?"

"Not a word," Bunnys face turned rosy pink, but her voice was calm and steady. "I can't imagine where he went or what's keeping him away."

"Who is in charge here?"

"That's what everybody asks. Why, nobody's in charge, exactly. Mr. Inman is in same ways, and of course, the servants keep the house running just as usual. I see a few of Myra's friends, but not all of them—I just can't."

"Of course you can't," put in Toddy Buck, with real sympathy. "It oughtn't to be expected of you."

"You must come over and stay with me," Mrs. Prentiss ordained, and her nephew's heart leaped for joy.

"Oh, no, I can't do that," Bunny said. "The police won't let me leave this house; and when they do, I shall, of course, go straight home."

"And too, I think I must look over Myra's things a little. There's no one else to do it, and a woman ought to go over her desk and—and such things."

"Yes, yes—of course," Mrs. Prentiss spoke a little vaguely. "But my house is open to you, my dear, and I'm sure when you think it over, you will see it would be wise for you to come over there."

"I expect Mr. Heath home at any minute," Bunny said. "I shan't make any plans until he comes."

"But he may not come at all," Mrs. Prentiss began and stopped suddenly as she saw the grief and horror on Bunnys face.

"And unable to bear up any longer."

Bunny put her head down on the kind hearted woman's shoulders, and cried softly.

SEE $100,000,000 CROP OF PINEAPPLES

Honolulu—(AP)—Pineapple growers in the Hawaiian Islands are looking to the day when the territory's pineapple crop will be worth $100,000,000.

In less than twenty-five years the industry has been built up to $35,000,000 a season and with the world demand for this fruit increasing, the $100,000,000 mark seems only a few years distant.

It takes only eighteen months to mature pineapple so the increase in size of the crop for a given year can be arranged in advance.

FRENCH RULER HEEDS ALL TRAFFIC LAWS

Paris—(AP)—The president of France observes all the regulations to which motorists are subjected, although a copper plate on his car marking ownership is inscribed.

Gaston Doumergue! Eleysee Palace! On entering a town in France, the amount of gasoline must be declared and noted on a ticket which is collected when the automobile re-enters the town, and if a supply has been bought meanwhile, a city tax is collected.

When the presidential automobile reaches the city duty limits, it stops just like all other cars do. Footman gets down and makes the usual declaration and receives the usual ticket.

Most of the car's forty horsepower is wasted as the president's limousine is always preceded by a little six horse-power in which a police sergeant rides, whose task it is to see that the official car gets a free road.

19,000 SILK WORMS MAKE SINGLE OUTFIT

As a rule, the higher class Japanese woman spends more money for single costume than does her foreign sister although she usually does not have as many outfits.

Her Own Way.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

AN EMBARRASSING QUESTION
Although I didn't know why, Jerry Hathaway inspired me with confidence. I wasn't nearly as blue as when I came into the restaurant. I felt as though I had a host about me, for with Mamie and Jimmy and now Mr. Hathaway, I knew that at least I had someone to go to if I got into trouble.

I trusted Jerry Hathaway immediately, and I could see that Jimmy thought he was about all there was in friends.

"I'm really glad I'm out of the place, Mr. Hathaway," I said. "I hated it from the first, but it paid good money and I presume it something like this had not happened, I would have stayed there a while longer."

"I don't believe in as cocky, Jimmy, as I was when I left home, and that weekly pay check from the Beaux Arts stood between me and starvation."

"Judy," said Jimmy Costello, seriously. "Do you realize that you've got on awfully well? Think of the girls that have been turned out on the streets as you might have been. When I think of that outfit over there, and how they treated you, and will probably treat other girls as they come, I just want to go and wipe up the floor with all of them. As it is, you found a good friend in Mamie Riley who took you into her home and heart. And, just when you couldn't stand it any longer I came onto the stage and now Jerry'll get you back your money tomorrow and that'll make you easy until you get another job."

"Why didn't you take Miss Dean into your office, Jim?"

Jimmy Costello reddened.

"She's not a stenographer," he stammered by way of explanation.

"Oh," was Mr. Hathaway's comment, and by his tone I knew that Jim had girls in his office that were not typists.

I confess I was angry and hurt. What was there about me that made it impossible for James Costello to take me into his office? I made up my mind to ask him the moment Mr. Hathaway left us. I was glad that our spaghetti came in at that moment, for it gave me a chance to be silent and I was afraid if I spoke I would burst into tears.

Jim noticed that I was very quiet, and he knew why but he refrained from making any comment.

Jerry Hathaway excused himself when the coffee appeared. He, too, felt the coldness of the atmosphere.

"Where will I bring your money, Miss Dean?" he asked.

"I'm at 740 4th street. I'm living with Mamie Riley and her mother, you know."

Hathaway smiled his approval. "You are in good hands. Mamie is the best thing about the Beaux Arts restaurant. Men and women like her smile. Too bad she's not able to have her voice cultivated."

STEEL TUG MENASHA PASSES INSPECTION

The new steel tug, Menasha, which was built at Duluth, Minn., and shipped to the Fox River canal via the Great Lakes about two months ago, recently passed inspection by government officials and is in use at present assisting in repair work along the canal. The new boat had been in dock at Little Rapids for about six weeks awaiting final inspection and approval.

The boat is a side wheeler of the same size and shape as the old tug Fox. It has a steel hull and steel upper work. It is captained by Warren Richards of Oakshosh and carries a crew of seven men.

ONE MOTOR CAR TO EVERY 4.03 BADGER PEOPLE

Dane-co Leads State in Relative Ownership; Milwaukee-co Has Most Cars

Madison (AP)—In contrast to ten years ago when Wisconsin had one motor vehicle to every 22.03 people, the state now has one car for every 4.03 inhabitants, according to F. A. Cannon, executive director of the Good Roads association of Wisconsin. Dane-co leads in relative ownership with one car for every 2.81 people, while Milwaukee-co leads in the total number of vehicles with 124,351.

These figures have been worked out by Mr. Cannon, in an analysis of the relative motor vehicle ownership in the different counties of the state. "Dane-co leads in relative motor vehicle ownership," Mr. Cannon said, "with one car for every 2.81 people, followed closely by Green-co with a relative ownership of 2.91, and Walworth with 3.26. The following counties are next in relative ownership: Waukesha, 3.02; Vilas, 3.1; Jefferson, 3.2; Ozaukee, 3.3; Columbia, Dodge, Grant, Rock, Sheboygan, Washington, 3.4; Calumet, Green Lake, 3.5. As a whole, the relative ownership is higher in the distinctly rural counties. Milwaukee county has an ownership of one car to 4.37; Racine, 4.29; Kenosha, 3.98; Brown, 4.2; Winnebago, 4.10; Fond du Lac, 3.6; La Crosse, 3.86. The lowest relative ownership is in Iron county, 6.54."

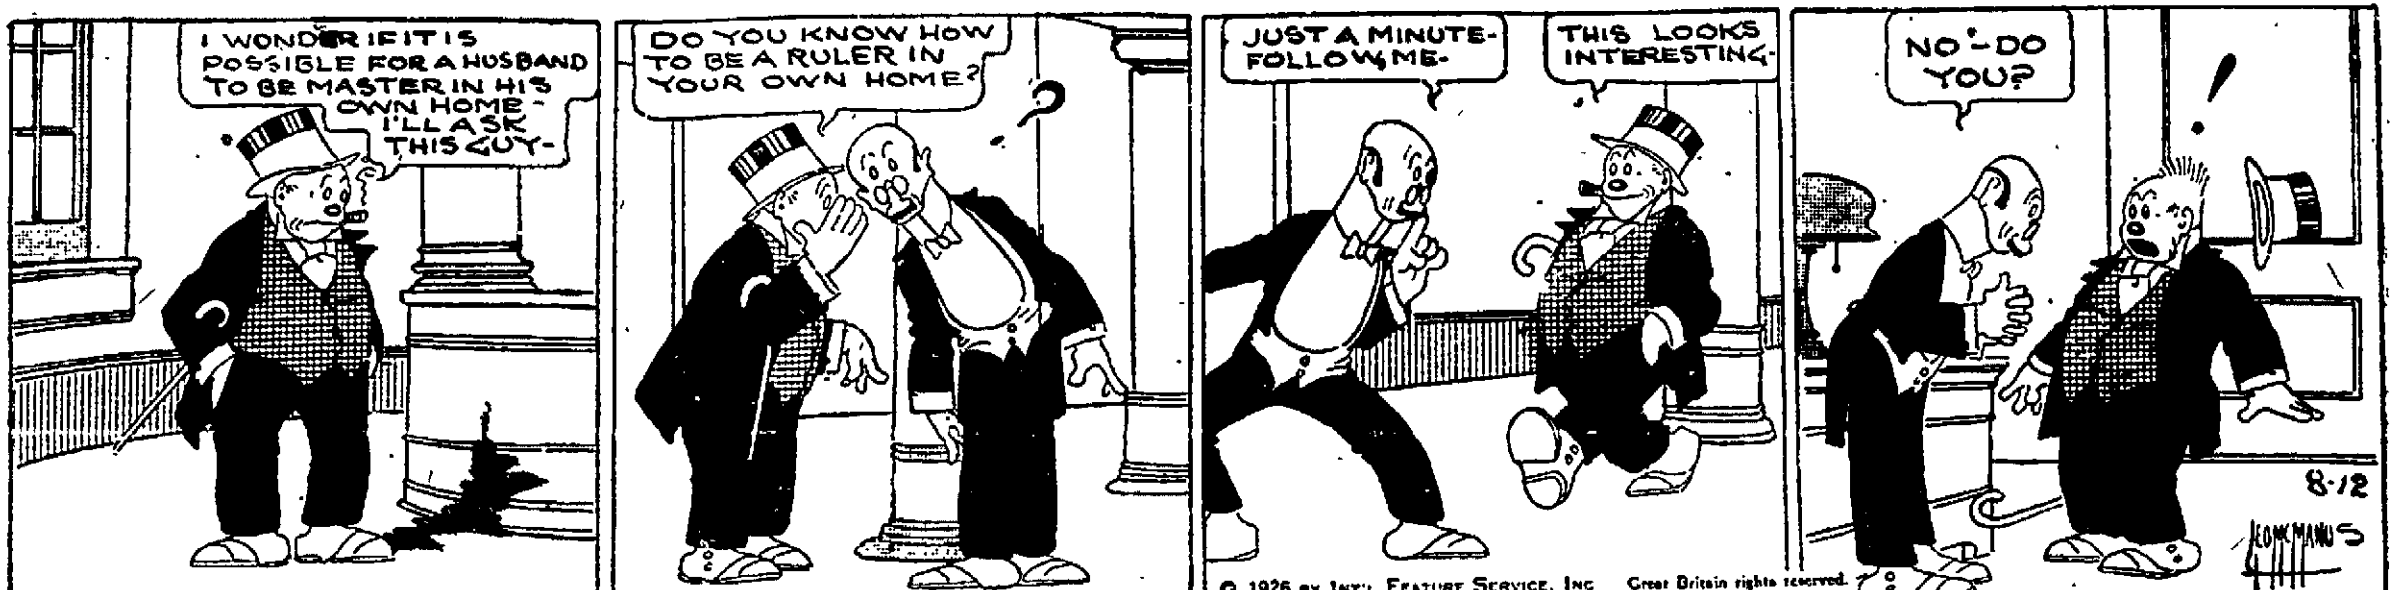

"Five years ago Wisconsin had one car to every 7.96 people; and ten years ago, one car to every 22.03 people. The average for the entire country is one car to every 16 people. "It is this amazing increase in the number of motor vehicles that creates the necessity for continuous road construction and maintenance, and for conserving funds for that purpose. Our neighboring state, Illinois, Michigan and Minnesota, have bonded, while Wisconsin is operating on the 'pay as you go' plan."

CARDINALS GAIN FULL GAME ON LEADING REDS

Chance Of Hornsby Crew To Take Loop Pennant Good As Mound Staff Comes Through

Cubs Chase Giants Out of Fourth; Yanks Lose Two but Indians Also Drop Tilt

Opportunity for the St. Louis Cardinals to engage in a series for the world baseball championship appears to be at hand, the men of Hornsby fighting desperately only two games behind the league leading Pirates, and few pitching quartets in the major leagues can compare with Flint Rhem, Vic Keen, Bill Sherdel and Jess Haines.

Haines Wednesday shut out the Boston Braves, 2 to 0, for the second time this season and the beating administered to Pittsburgh by Brooklyn, 4 to 2, gave his team a full game gain.

Haines granted only five hits, all for one base. Dazzy Vance downed the Pirates after Brooklyn had lost nine straight contests. The Dodgers after playing haphazard ball for more than a week recorded an errorless game.

Chicago carried the New York Giants back into a tie for fourth place by overwhelming them, 11 to 1, and the Cincinnati Reds paraded around the bases at Philadelphia, 10 to 1, as the Phillies tried to stop them.

Babe Ruth hit his 37th home run of the year at Washington but the Yankees went down to defeat twice by the same score, 5-4. The second contest went 11 innings before Catcher Benny Tate of the Senators shot a home run to the left field wall for the victory. Ruth hit his blow in the sixth inning of the final contest and now is six behind his record of 1921 when he made his 37th on July 30.

Manager Stanley Harris was banished from the first game for protesting a decision. Cleveland lost to the White Sox after 13 innings, 7-2, so gained little ground of the New York club. Bill Falk inserted a homer in Chicago's five run spree in the 13th.

Given a three run lead in the fourth Gibson of Detroit pitched effectively thereafter and stopped the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1. Only six hits were garnered from his delivery. Manush of Detroit scored a round trip smash.

Weyauwega Whips Poys Sippi, 6-4

Weyauwega's baseball team defeated the strong Poys Sippi nine in a fast ball game played Sunday afternoon at the Weyauwega fair grounds taking the long end of a 6-4 score.

Strand and Schroeder worked for the home team and Ziegenhagen and Ziegenhagen for the losers. Strand fanned twelve batters while his opponent got eight. Schroeder pounded out four safe blows and Sorenson got three for the invaders. Any team desiring a game with the Weyauwega crew should write or phone F. Schroeder at Weyauwega.

WALTER HAGEN—LEARN SWING BEFORE PLAYING

The beginner should never go near a golf course until he has learned some idea of how to hit a ball. Getting the proper swing before approaching golf grounds will save a lot. Beginners should remember that first-class players hate to waste time playing with a duffer who only retards their progress.

Learning the game while playing in a match is no way to get any headway. You are spoiling your own game and that of the good players.

There is another angle to the game, too. Beginners do contest a golf course. They can't play the game fast enough to hold their place and a great many of them do not know enough about golf etiquette to invite those behind to come through. As a result the course is held up.

Try and remember that you must keep close behind those ahead of you. The general rule in regard to this is to play when the players in front of you have had their second shot. If this is not enough one must wait until they are well out of range.

BREWERS BATTER WAY TO WIN OVER KERNELS

Milwaukee—Baseball skill vanished to the four winds, and science disappeared in the murky skies that enveloped the arena. The sock was the thing, and by pure brute strength the Brewers battered their way to a 7 to 6 win over the cheery Colonels Wednesday, the first home victory over the champions this season in ten starts.

HORNSBY FACES TOUGH TASK TO HOLD SWAT TITLE

With Less Than Two Months Left Rajah of Rap Is 20 Points Behind Loop Leaders

St. Louis—If Rogers Hornsby, the mighty Rajah of Rap, is to continue his string of National League batting championships this season, he will have to start a real sprint shortly.

With less than two months remaining of the regular campaign, Rogers finds himself more than 20 points behind the leaders. And 20 points is quite a distance to make up, specially when the pace-setters aren't showing any outward signs of faltering in the stretch.

Off to a poor start, Rogers has been running amuck plenty of tough luck all season. His managerial duties plus injuries have kept him from busting the leather at his usual gait.

This time last year Hornsby was leading the procession by a comfortable margin. He was hitting close to .400. His only real competitor was Jim Bottomley, a teammate. Rogers easily distanced Bottomley, though, and for the last few weeks simply breezed in.

This year there are several bent on halting the Cards' manager's sensational batting regime. Lester Bell, also a teammate, is one. Bell has been clouting the agate in a consistent manner all year and may be hard to dislodge.

Then there are Pie Traynor, Rube Bressler, George Grantham, Hazen Cuyler, Eddie Brown and Ed Roush, among others. That's a pretty tough and formidable field to wade through.

Two years ago, Hornsby came especially strong during the last few weeks of the chase, finishing with the remarkable average of .424. Last year he fell down in the latter stages, mainly because he wasn't pushed and had no record-breaking incentives.

What the Rajah will do during the next few weeks is a matter of conjecture, of course. He may blaze a victorious trail and add one more crown to his already long list. But it will be to maintain his consecutive triumphs he will have to get going at once. For he's got a tough task ahead.

BLAKESLEE SET TO DEFEND TITLE

State Open Champ Shooting in Rare Form; Gallett, Walsh Have Chance

Milwaukee—A gust of news blows up from Kenosha to the effect that Jack Blakeslee's golf blades are doing miracle things again and that he should manage to outscore the field in the Wisconsin open championship on his home course next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Last Saturday the open champ drilled a 68 at Sam and Jim Anderson in a friendly match, and Sunday he came back with a 71, one under par. Blakeslee has been hitting this sizzling pace ever since his disastrous trip to the national open meet at Scioto, where his 181 total for 36 holes failed to qualify.

Blakeslee's chief rival in the 72-hole grind at Kenosha is expected to be Francis Gallett, the New Blue Mound tutor. There'll be others to bother the chase, such as Morris Hunter, O. Tripoli, F. G. Leonard of the Milwaukee Country club, Frank Walsh of Appleton, Willie Eibt of Tuckaway, but Gallett is the golfer who looms as Blakeslee's most formidable rival.

In last year's meet at Ozaueke Gallett suffered the poor break of splintering the shaft in his driver early in the first round and not wishing to experiment with a new wooden club, he switched to his brassie. In that first round he took a 74-77 and was then nine shots behind Blakeslee, who shattered the course record with a 68. Gallett picked up two shots in the second round with a 72 to Blakeslee's 74, picked up another in the third round with 74 to Blakeslee's 75, and lost a stroke in the closing round with 71 to Blakeslee's par 70. This gave Blakeslee 287 for the 72 holes, and Gallett 294.

E. P. Ahls, state amateur champ, finished second with 291; Frank Walsh of Appleton had 293, and Gallett 294.

Gallett's playing better golf this year, though, and the outlook is that the shooting at Kenosha will be nearer to par than it was last season.

RED FABER MAKES FINE RECORD IN 13 SEASONS

Urban "Red" Faber has been hurling for the Chicago White Sox since 1914. That makes 13 seasons in the big show. During that time Faber has hung up a great record.

In only one season has "Red" dropped below the .500 mark. That was in 1924 when he won but nine games, losing 11. In 1914, his debut year, he capped eight while dropping a like number.

Four times Faber has passed the 20-game figure in victories. He had his best year in 1915 when he won 24, losing 13. In 1917 and 1918 he allowed but 1.93 and 1.22 earned runs per game respectively.

GOLF CHAMPION

DAVE WARD

Date is only 18 but he's the newly-crowned amateur golf champion of Michigan. He came into the honor by sweeping through a classy field to beat Bill Country of the Leckmoor Country club in the finals, 6 and 5. Ward is a student at Big Rapids high school and experts predict a great future for him in the driver and putter pasture.

SCRAPPERS SET FOR BIG FIGHTS

White, Mitchell Feature Card of 3 Ten-round Bouts at Milwaukee Tonight

Milwaukee—With all the fighters on the ground for the big open air show at Milwaukee Baseball Park Thursday evening, the fans are taking more interest in the event than at any other time this year.

Tommy White, the Mexican champion welter, who features with Pinky Mitchell, has made quite a hit in his workouts, and there are some of the fans who think he will duplicate his victory over the Milwaukee champion at Jaurez, Mex.

White looks to be a husky welterweight and claims he will not only beat Mitchell again, but that he will try to put over the K. O. this time.

Pinky has been working out at the river camp every day and is in splendid condition. He realizes that it is up to him to do or die in this match and he is out to win in a decisive manner. Nothing but a knockout will satisfy Pinky this time.

The other half of the double bill will bring together Harry Kid Brown, Philadelphia star, and Harry Kahn, lightweight champion of Wisconsin. They will clash at 135 pounds and it will be Brown's science and experience against Kahn's hitting and stamina.

Harry Quong, the Chinese bantam, arrives Tuesday and then the outfit will be complete. Quong will battle Syd Kelly, the Italian midsize, and it will no doubt be an interesting scrap as both are speedsters.

Matt Cianciola, local amateur champion, has turned pro and will take on Frankie Dory of Marinette, Wis., a very good youngster and brother of Joe, who formerly fought as a middleweight.

Chief Williams Loyal To Team Though Home Burned

Green Bay—Saturday is Chief Williams day at Bellevue park and, with a fair break in weather, one of the biggest crowds of the season will be on hand to pay tribute to a ball player who long has been a favorite among the fans in this part of Wisconsin.

Not so long ago a fire completely gutted the home of Williams and his tribe (aside from the wife, there are four children) in Oneida. So far as personal possessions went, the Williams only had left what was on their backs and George (that's the Chief father and daddy of 'em all) made the trip to Fond du Lac garbed in overalls. Despite his misfortune, the Chief was loyal to his team and he went out and played just as if nothing had happened.

News of the Chief's tough break reached the league heads and it didn't take them long to approve Manager Cusman's suggestion that a booster game be staged for Williams. What's more, the league officials set aside precedent and put their shoulders to the wheel in making Williams day an all league round affair.

Every spoke in the wheel is buying some tickets to help swell the

CRACK NAVY TEAM BATTLES OSHKOSH KITZ-PFEIL CREW

Schneider, Nussbaum, Winkewerder to Face Sailors; Band Accompanies Squad

All arrangements have been completed for the season's premier baseball attraction in this city, scheduled for next Saturday and Sunday, when the crack Great Lakes Naval station baseball team will invade this city for a two-game series with the Kitz and Pfeil baseball club.

Although the Great Lakes team will provide plenty of sensations on its own merits and playing ability on the diamond, the coming of the famous Great Lakes Navy band of thirty or forty pieces is also of much interest to all Oshkosh.

The baseball game of both Saturday and Sunday will be double attractions. High class baseball and a band concert will be the "bill of fare" on each occasion. The Navy team is at its best this year, with the addition of several star performers, but Oshkosh is all set to give the visitors a real tussle.

The local aggregation will have three reliable hurlers to take up the mound duties. Schneider, Nussbaum, and Winkewerder are the three twirling mainstays of the club.

Schneider and Nussbaum are known in this locality as exceptional peggers and Winkewerder is a topnotcher, coming from the Baltimore Orioles. Runke will be behind the log. Runke's throwing arm is in fine shape.

"Milt" Wilson will cover the initial sack. Wilson is a dependable hitter and he handles his territory in the field in veteran style.

Johnny Scheleski and "Cy" Scheleski, the Slamese twins of cooperative action, will plug up the center gaps of the infield at second base and shortstop, respectively. McCormick, formerly of Antigo, will handle the hot ones at the windy corner.

The Oshkosh outfielders will be "Bull" Durham, Al Cissa and "Artie" Tesch, all brilliant players.

BUSTER BOCK WINS MILWAUKEE TOURNEY

Milwaukee—Adolph (Buster) Bock, Sheboygan's golf ace and a topnotcher in Wisconsin rankings, outshot a field of 200 players Tuesday in the big New Blue Mound Country club's invitation tournament.

The young Chair City expert had a 73, three over par, gathered by means of a 36 on the outward half and a 37 coming back. Bock's only mistake on the first nine was a 5 on the first hole, the rest being accomplished in par.

On the inward stretch Adolph got away with a painful 6 on the par 1 tenth, and took 5 on the short Apple Orchard par 3 sixteenth. Two birdies made up for a pair of these shots, and a third birdie, on the eighteenth, slipped away when Bock's putt rolled to the brink of the cup, peeked in, but refused to drop.

Bock is 1925 Northeastern Wisconsin champ and runnerup to Ken Dickenson, 1926 titlist.

THREE CLUBS GIVING ORIOLES REAL FIGHT

Newark, Toronto and Buffalo are giving Jack Dunn's Baltimore team quite a battle for the International League bunting this season. The Orioles, as has been the case for the last six or seven campaigns, are out in front, but they haven't got a safe lead by any means. Toronto has the best chance to halt the long winning streak of the Dunn entourage. If any club is to turn the trick.

Waterloo, Ia. —(P)—Jack Corredo Omaha middleweight, won a newspaper decision over Young Sharkey, Davenport, Iowa (6).

Every spoke in the wheel is buying some tickets to help swell the gate for Williams who is one of the best liked and most feared on the (diamond) players in the circuit. Not alone are these clubs buying some of the duets but their players are

There are only a very few lots left in this territory, which was the old circus grounds and is one of the few lots of such large dimensions. If you are contemplating building in the near future, this is a location and a lot where you can't go wrong.

STATE ST. N.—Lot 36x98 feet with all improvements including paving for $750 plus paving tax. This is one of the few available lots left on State Street. As this street is nearly all built up and certain streets are beautiful since the paving and boulevard have been put in.

YOU CAN build a house 23x36 feet on this lot and still have room for a garage and driveway. Will take small payments down on these lots and the balance monthly.

OTHER LOTS in all parts of the city some partly improved, others completely improved. Lots of all sizes and prices. Many good investments.

A LOT DEPENDS UPON THE LOT.

LARGE CROWD TO WELCOME 120TH ARTILLERY BAND

Local Musical Organization Will Return from Camp Saturday Afternoon

A large crowd is expected at the Chicago and Northwestern depot Saturday afternoon to welcome the 120th Field Artillery band upon its return to Appleton after a two week encampment at Camp Robinson, Sparta, Wis. The band will return by special train between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The organization will play its first concert after its return at Horn Park, Brillion, Sunday afternoon at the annual Fremont's picnic. This concert will mark the homecoming celebration for Edward F. Munn, conductor of the band. Brillion is his "home town" and he has not returned there with a musical organization since he directed the band there 25 years ago. Appleton people are invited to the celebration.

The Appleton homecoming concert will be played at Pierce park Monday evening, Aug. 16. This concert takes the place of the one scheduled for Friday evening, July 30, which was postponed on account of rain. The concert was to have consisted of a request program, which will probably be played next Monday evening. Two feature numbers, overture from William Tell and "Home Sweet Home the World Over," also will be presented. The latter number is the annual feature of the homecoming concert, played upon the band's return from camp.

The band left for Camp Robinson Saturday morning, July 31, with 47 members, including its conductor, Edward F. Munn.

According to communications from the vicinity of Camp Robinson, the Appleton band has been one of the most popular units attending the encampment and is winning laurels this year than in any previous year. Three concerts, with audiences averaging 2,000 persons, were represented at Sparta. Last Tuesday evening the band played for over 3,000 persons at Tomah, and several concerts have been presented at the orphan asylum at Sparta, where the local musicians were received by most appreciative listeners.

The band was invited to play at La Crosse Thursday evening, Aug. 26, at the American Legion convention, which will be in session there from Aug. 26 to 28, but had to refuse the invitation as it is already contracted to furnish music at the Seymour fair at that time.

BOB SCORES LENROOT FOR VOTE ON TARIFF

Stanley (C) Senator Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., declared here Thursday that Senator Irvine L. Lenroot had voted for the Fordney-McCumber tariff act while "he admitted that the rates were too high." He said the LaFollette progressive platform is pledged to "drastic reduction of exorbitant duties."

"The Fordney-McCumber tariff act, which was passed in 1922, creates the highest protective tariff ever known in the history of this or any other country," Senator La Follette said.

"It levies a tribute upon the American consumer of $3,000,000,000 a year, explaining his vote for the bill."

He admitted that the rates were too high.

Dizzy Profits Flow From 'General Motors' Fireworks

BY RICHARD SPILLANE

New York—Increase in the price of General Motors stock from $113.25 to $213.75 per share within a few months wrote new financial history for the New York Stock Exchange.

There have been many other spectacular flights in various issues, but they generally have involved relatively small corporations. There are 5,161,595 shares of General Motors outstanding.

Start of the most recent General Motors' rise was credited to buying by W. C. Durant, himself an automobile manufacturer, Durand created General Motors, and at various times controlled it.

On paper, at least, he is millions richer from his reputed General Motors trading.

But the E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. has profited vastly more, and this without participation in the Stock Exchange furries.

January 1 the duPonts held 1,330,829 shares of General Motors. This stock was valued on the duPont book at $93,155,000. When the Exchange priced reached $213.75 the other day, the value was well in excess of $282,000,000.

Only a little more than two years ago, General Motors sold below $56 per share.

Wall street has not yet recovered from its amazement at reading an interview on General Motors stock attributed to Thomas Cochran; partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., as he sailed for Europe. Publication of the interview brought on more furious buying of the stock.

The Morgans don't air their opinions on stock prices very often.

STREET RAILWAY COMPANIES MUST OFFER COMFORT

People Are Used to Luxurious Traveling Since Advent of Automobile

La Crosse.—(P)—The private automobile has taught people the luxury and comfort of travel, and the street car company must offer them similar advantages if street railway companies of Wisconsin are to prosper. Neils Rasmussen, Wausau chairman of the Electric Railway section of the Wisconsin Utilities association, said here Wednesday.

Mr. Rasmussen pointed out that a new era in transportation has been opened and that "it would be folly to expect people to ride in obsolete, unsightly, uncomfortable equipment on poor tracks."

"We must offer the people," he said, "at least in some degree the same comfort and luxury afforded by the private automobile. That the industry is essential has been proven beyond all doubt by the steady increase in patronage which we are experiencing year by year."

"We must however modernize our equipment and put our tracks in first class condition. We cannot afford to run obsolete equipment because it detracts rather than attracts patronage; is uneconomical to operate and should be relegated to the scrap heap, or at least be used in emergency only."

"If we offer to the patronage in our municipalities modern up-to-date equipment there is no question but what we will increase the patronage, especially so if we can increase our speeds. To do this it is necessary that we have the close cooperation of our municipalities. This cooperation to consist of enacting and enforcing anti parking ordinances in congested areas, so that our cars may be operated with as little delay as possible.

"As the street car occupies the least space in the street for the amount of passengers it handles, it is entitled to the right of way."

"Motor coach is gradually finding its place in the transportation scheme, not in competition with the electric railway but as a feeder to them and developer of unserved territory. The motor coach, contrary to expectations, has not decreased the patronage on street railways, but according to a survey recently made by the Cleveland Street Railway company has decreased the number of persons coming downtown by private automobiles from 46.2 per cent in 1925 to 21.76 per cent in 1926, which proves that the coach is developing new business which otherwise was going to private automobiles."
